

2022 The Year of The Water Tiger

The Lunar New Year starts on Friday, February 1, 2022 and ends on January 21, 2023. 2022 is a Water year, according to Chinese Five Elements. Because Water is the equivalent of black color in the Five-Element system, the year 2022 is also called Yang Black Tiger Year.

According to legend, Tiger was confident that no one could compete with its speed and vigor for the celestial race that would decide the order of the zodiacs. However, when Tiger climbed out of the river, thinking it was first, it was informed that Rat placed first for its cunning and Ox placed second for its diligence. This left the king of the jungle having to settle for third place.

Tigers desire power and Water Tigers are no exception. If they can work hard and keep making progress, they will realize their goals. Water Tigers must learn to practice patience and love, especially with their family. Otherwise, turbulence in the private sphere will interfere with their success in the professional sphere. Water Tigers will make great progress in their career, but success will not come without hard work.

The Water Tiger symbolizes determinism, spontaneity and novelty. 2022 is a year to experience strength and growth from dynamism and enthusiasm. It is a time to give the best of ourselves in order to significantly improve our life circumstance.

It's also a good year to forgive the past and heal old wounds in order to create the life we desire. 2022 highlights action and willpower with an ability to step back and not succumb to the emotion of the moment. Calm, balance and judgment are the main qualities that should be cultivated and applied throughout the year.

2022 will be a year full of opportunities and prosperity. 2022 can dramatically change our lives for the better—as long as we are not afraid to turn our dreams into reality. It is a great year for starting new projects, but we will need to protect and give them the same attention the Tiger gives to its cubs.

Follow your inner guidance and intuition and never lose focus. You may decide to temporarily postpone less important projects in order to achieve the most important. Alternatively, this is an opportunity to resurrect and complete some forgotten or forsaken life goal.

Tigers are courageous and active people who love a good challenge and adventure in life. In 2022 use the energy of the Tiger. Be vigorous and ambitious, daring and courageous, enthusiastic and generous, self-confident with a sense of justice, and committed to helping others for the greater good.
